LOUISVILLE.
FRIDAY, JULY 2, 1869.

More Voters Coming.

The Chinese are now pouring into our country very rapidly. Every ship that lands upon the Pacific coast brings some of the Celestials to our shores. There are now more than 200,000 of this race in the State of California, and still they come. The thought has entered the heads of some to turn these Chinese emigrants to cultivating the cotton and sugar lands of the South. Already associations are being formed, in St. Louis and elsewhere, for bringing over the Chinese and Japanese in large numbers and placing them upon our lands for the purpose of having them take the place of the negro labor which is growing worse and less reliable every day.

Well, there is room enough in our country for many Chinese and China is big enough and populous enough to supply the many. That vast empire stretches over about one-tenth part of the habitable globe and contains within its enormous bounds a population of about 500,000,000 of souls. Its area is more than 5,000,000 of square miles, which is much greater than the entire United States, and with the exception of Russia is perhaps the largest country that ever came under one government on the earth. And as for population the world has never known anything like the numbers of human souls obeying one sovereign ruler.

If we undertake, therefore, to secure labor from China to cultivate our sugar, our cotton and our cereal lands, there is no danger of the insufficiency of the supply. There are laborers enough in China to fill up the entire domain of the United States more populous than the thickest settled State now in the Union. The labor, too, is cheap, and said to be reliable. The Chinese have been for years at work in California, and have done good service. They were put upon the great Pacific railroad, and showed themselves as capable of labor there as in the fields of California. They have done well wherever they have been tried in this country.

But what shall be done with the Celestials should they come among us in numbers adequate to the work we want done upon our lands and in our shops? It will be a good while before the people of the United States number 50,000,000, and yet that number might come among us from China without the Emperor of the Celestials missing anybody from his dominions. He could spare fifty millions and only miss one man out of ten from his rice fields and tea nurseries and opium gardens. And if this people once get well to coming in this direction there is no telling how many of them will come.

But still the question arises what will be done with them when they get here in vast numbers? The Republicans insist that the negro shall be equal to the white man in this country, and why may not the Chinese be equal also? Is there any argument that can be used for the negro ballot that will not apply with equal force to the Chinese? With the Africans and Chinese in vast numbers among us, all privileged to vote, what would prevent them from fastening upon the genius of our country some of the characteristics of Oriental rule? It seems to us that the advocates of negro voting might well enough look to the future for a moment and see whether their doctrine of negro equality is leading.

As for ourselves, we have no trouble whatever on this subject. We deem ours a white man's government, and are utterly opposed to the franchise or the social or political equality of the negro. The African shall never vote here with our consent, and this determination enables us easily to dispose of the Chinese question, or any other similar question that may spring up. We are willing to concede to the negro all the privileges he ought to have in this country, but we neither want him a witness in court, for or against the whites, in Kentucky nor a voter in the United States. If he don't like this he can go elsewhere, so far as we are concerned; and when John China wants the right to vote here, we shall say to him pretty much what we have said to the negro and what we would say to the Indian. This is our government and we want to keep it ours. The nations of the earth are welcome among us for certain purposes, but not for all. As well regulated families have their own notions as to those with whom they want to be upon an equality, so we have with regard to negroes, &c. The negroes, Chinese, Indians, &c., are well enough in their place, but they have their place just as surely as the gorilla and the chimpanzee have theirs. They may rise to our equality if they can, but we don't intend to descend to theirs if we can help it.

The Great Eastern is having some trouble with the new Atlantic cable. Yesterday's dispatches from London say something is wrong with that part of the cable already laid, and that the Great Eastern had cut the cable and buoyed it, and had gone back to find and remove the fault. It is said that the difficulty is not a serious one, and that it will speedily be removed.

There was a frightful nitro-glycerine explosion at Carnarvon, in Wales, yesterday. The compound exploded while being carried in carts from the harbor to the quarries. The horses, carts and cartmen were blown to atoms.

General Goicouria.

The gallant old Cuban patriot, General Goicouria, who has long been striving to secure the independence of the Ever Faithful Isle, was arrested in New York last Monday night, upon suspicion of being a leader in the last Cuban expedition, and was sent to jail. On Tuesday he was taken before the United States Court, where he was held in $5,000 bail to answer the charge preferred against him, and $3,000 to keep the peace. This was a rather singular proceeding. It was not shown that General Goicouria had anything to do with the expedition in question, or that he had attempted an infraction of the peace; he was merely suspected of these things; and yet he was sent to jail in default of bonds to the amount of eight thousand dollars. The United States Government is afraid that its Alabama Claims will be damaged by this Cuban business is done with the English press have declared that there is danger of such a result—and the Government is determined to make an example of a prominent filibuster or two in order that its skirts may appear unsoiled when those claims come to be settled. Hence the arrest and the holding to bail, upon charges based on suspicion only, of General Goicouria. It would seem to be rather late in the day to take this step, inasmuch as its force and effect will be nothing in the face of the fact that half a dozen armed expeditions have sailed for Cuba from American ports, with little or no effort on the part of the Government to arrest them.

General Goicouria, who was connected with the celebrated Lopez expedition, is one of the bravest and most enterprising of the Cuban patriots in this country. We wish him a safe and speedy deliverance from the trouble in which he finds himself involved with the United States authorities.

GEX. GRANT CAN'T STAND SENTER and enfranchisement. He is going for Stokes and negro supremacy in Tennessee. A Washington special to the New York Times says: "There is no question of the fact that the President and a majority, if not all, of the cabinet have determined that the shape of affairs in the Tennessee canvass justifies them in allowing their sympathies to side with the greater body of Republicans who are supporting Col. Stokes for Governor. The success of the Senter movement now promises to take the State over so completely to the power of the rebel Democracy, and to place the Union men of the State in the position of the Union men of Maryland, that the administration can scarcely afford to ignore the condition of affairs, and it is therefore exceedingly probable that if its influence is exercised, that it will be thrown in support of its undoubted sympathies."

Here is a little twenty-five-hundred-dollar romance, told by the New York Evening Post: "Gerrit Smith last week gave two thousand five hundred dollars to the Oswego (N. Y.) Orphan Asylum. Mr. Smith expressing a desire to a gentleman to see the asylum, was taken thither. Having examined the buildings, he went into the school-room and saw colored children mingled with the white. In a conversation with the matron, he was informed that no distinction was made as to color. This fact so pleased him that he immediately signified his intention of making the gift." Some people say Gerrit is crazy. Very few sane men would pay twenty-five hundred dollars for the pleasure of seeing a parcel of white and negro orphans herding together—the white children, of course, powerless to prevent such an indiscriminate mixing up of colors.

GENERAL MAX WEBER, commanding a brigade in the Army of the Potomac, says the Philadelphia Age, lost his right arm while gallantly leading his brigade into action at the battle of Antietam. Though disabled for a time, he served afterward till the close of the war. He came out of the war poor, and his friends succeeded in procuring for him a subordinate position in the New York Customhouse, where he discharged his duties honorably to himself, and was enabled to support his family respectably. He has been dismissed. A politician needed his place, and General Grant gave the cold shoulder to the wounded veteran. Is such a party worthy the support of brave and faithful soldiers?

Of the colored typographical squabble at the National capital, the New York Democrat says: "Among the printers at Washington, when a white man is refused admission to a society or printers' union, for reasons best known to those refusing, nothing is said. When a black man is refused admission for good reasons, not only the Government printing office, but the United States Senate, and all the departments of government in Washington, are shaken to their foundation. If the printers of Washington had wanted to keep out from their organization a thousand soldiers, no one would have said a word. When they vote to keep from their number a black man, who is not a printer, great is the howling."

A New York paper tells us that a diamond ring which had been lost since the fall of 1823, was found in a well in Oswego in that State a few days ago. The well was being cleaned, a process which it had undergone several times since the loss of the ring. Forty-six years this jewel lay at the bottom of the well, and it came out as bright and pure as the day it sunk. The granddaughter of the lady who lost the ring is now the owner and wearer.

MADAM RIMSKI KORSAKOFF, of Paris, has started on a pleasure journey through Germany with three carriages; that occupied by herself drawn by her two celebrated ponies which created such a sensation in the Bois de Boulogne. She will travel about two leagues a day, following no prescribed route. This style of traveling, by which railways are dispensed with, is the latest fashionable whim in Paris.

We have a national Robeson Crusoe. Is Porter to be his man Friday?

Down on Grant.

The disgraceful nepotism of Grant, together with his numerous blunders, is exciting considerable feeling among the Radicals. The New York Commercial (Thurlock's organ), says this about the President:

THE SPOILED CHILD.—Some of the extreme party organs have taken to scolding the Sun because of its bold manner in talking to General Grant. It would be much better for General Grant and the Republican party if some of these cringing, time-serving, spoils-seeking, office-expecting champions of the President would follow the example of the Sun, and tell him to his face that he has done nothing but blunder since he entered the White House. These turgid organs know it, but lack the courage to speak their mind, for fear of losing their chance of being made postmaster or tide waiter. General Grant has been acting like a spoiled child, and a gentle application of birch would be of thirtyfold more benefit to him than we advise the special friends of the General, who are acting very much as superannuated grandmas and grandpas do with a pet grandchild, to remember the ancient adage, "spare the rod and spoil the child." We speak thus plainly because we think the occasion demands it—even at the risk of being assailed as a Conservative, playing into the hands of the Democracy. A little wholesome truth-telling applied to President Grant, we repeat, will be advantageous to him and the party.

CITY ITEMS.

WE HAVE watched the course of so many distressed, emaciated and forlorn dyspeptics, of worn-out and prostrated females, who have taken a new lease of life, and gradually received vigor, strength, health and the power of social pleasure from the effects of PLANTATION BITTERS, that we are not surprised at the testimonials daily received. If it is a pleasure to do good in the world, how full must be the measure of the proprietors of these celebrated Bitters.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Words of Weight for Wives and Mothers. The superiority of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS over all other tonics and correctives, as a remedy for dyspepsia, biliousness, nervous prostration, and all disorders of the visceral organs, and as a preventive of malarious disorders, is proverbial; but perhaps it is not so generally known that the ingredients of this famous invigorant and alterative exercise a powerful and most beneficial influence in that numerous and distressing class of ailments, of which so many thousands of delicate women are the patient, uncomplaining victims. The special troubles of the sex, commencing with the dawn of womanhood, and extending over a period of from thirty to thirty-five years, are as readily and speedily relieved by the use of this admirable vegetable preparation, as any of the complaints common to both sexes, for which it is recommended as a specific. The attention of mothers is invited to its beneficial effect in those peculiar cases of functional irregularity and irritability, which, when neglected or mismanaged, destroy the health and shorten the lives of so many females. There is no need for the powerful and dangerous drugs too often resorted to in such cases. The use of this tonic and restorative agent, the BITTERS, is all the assistance that nature requires in its struggle to overcome the difficulty, and a vast amount of suffering would be spared to the sex, if they placed implicit faith in this wholesome vegetable invigorant, corrector and medicine, and discarded the pernicious nostrums advertised by ignorant and mercenary charlatans. je26 tf

WINTERSMITH'S

TONIC SIRUP.

—OR—

IMPROVED

Chill Cure,

BEING AN IMPROVEMENT ON HIS

LIMERICK CHILL CURE.

A CERTAIN REMEDY

FOR EVERY FORM OF

FEVER AND AGUE.

THE CURE IS PERMANENT.

The Chill Once Broken Will Not Return.

Contains No Quinine or Arsenic, nor Any Deleterious Substance Whatever.

This preparation is carefully compounded of purely vegetable ingredients, and never fails, when properly taken, to cure the most obstinate case of fever and ague, neuralgia, and all malarious diseases. Unlike chill remedies generally, it requires no purgative to be taken with it, the medicine itself acting gently and agreeably upon the liver and bowels, effectually removing the cause of the disease, not merely temporarily checking it. Herein consists one great advantage it has over all other preparations. The crowning excellence of this remedy, however, above the permanency and certainty of its cure, is the fact that no injury whatever can arise from its use, as is certain to be the case when quinine or arsenic are taken, which are the principal ingredients of most of the chill medicines now in use. Quinine, acting upon the nervous system, produces, according to our best authorities, "a feeling of tightness or distension of the head, ringing, buzzing or roaring in the ears, partial deafness," &c., and when the dose is increased, "complete deafness, diminution or loss of sight, dilated or irremovable pupil, coma, and great prostration."

Wintersmith's Tonic Sirup leaves the system in a perfectly healthy condition, with no bad effects in any way to be worn off.

Another great virtue claimed for this medicine, and wherein consists its superiority over other medicines, is that the cure is permanent. It rarely requires more than a day or two to effectually break the chill, and, once broken, they will not return.

Hundreds of letters are daily received testifying to the efficacy and wonderful virtues of this remedy. It is very popular wherever sold, taking the place of any other remedy it comes in competition with.
